

George Taylor

College Professor

george.taylor@email.com | 555-123-4567 | 123 Elm Street, Cambridge, MA 02138

linkedin.com/in/georgetaylor | scholar.harvard.edu/georgetaylor

Profile Summary

Dedicated college professor with over 15 years of experience in the field of English Literature. Consistently recognized for successfully developing curriculum and implementing innovative teaching methods that enhance the educational journey and scholarly growth of students. Proven track record of producing scholarly articles in reputed journals and guiding students towards fulfilling academic milestones.

Work Experience

Associate Professor of English

Harvard University

1st Sep, 2010 - Present

- Developed and taught over 15 graduate and undergraduate courses, receiving teaching evaluations averaging 4.8/5.
- Published 12 articles in top-tier journals, enhancing both department reputation and funding opportunities.
- Served as advisor for 30+ undergraduate and 10 graduate thesis projects, with many students achieving honors.
- Initiated the annual literary conference, attracting over 200 attendees including speakers and scholars worldwide.

Assistant Professor of English

University of California, Berkeley

1st Aug, 2005 - 31st Aug, 2010

- Enhanced student engagement through implementation of cutting-edge teaching methodologies, leading to a 20% improvement in test scores.
- Led a team of 5 in a curriculum redesign project, elevating course registration numbers by 40%.
- Mentored junior faculty members, fostering a collaborative and supportive educational environment.
- Secured a $200,000 research grant to study contemporary applications of classical literature.

Education

Stanford University

Ph.D. in English Literature

1st Sep, 2001 - 30th Jun, 2005

Yale University

Master of Arts in English

1st Sep, 1999 - 31st May, 2001

University of Chicago

Bachelor of Arts in English

1st Sep, 1995 - 31st May, 1999

Skills

Curriculum Development, Research and Analysis, Academic Writing, Public Speaking, Student Mentorship, Conference Leadership

Notable Projects

Modern Interpretations of Shakespeare

Led a research project analyzing the influence of Shakespeare's works on modern literature, resulting in a published anthology used in university level courses across the country.

Certifications

Certificate in Advanced Pedagogy

Issued by Harvard University Center for Teaching and Learning, 25th Sep, 2012

Awards

Excellence in Teaching Award

Awarded by Harvard University, 15th Oct, 2018

Outstanding Researcher Award

Awarded by Modern Language Association, 10th Nov, 2015